

Nomination for Junior Trapper of 2022

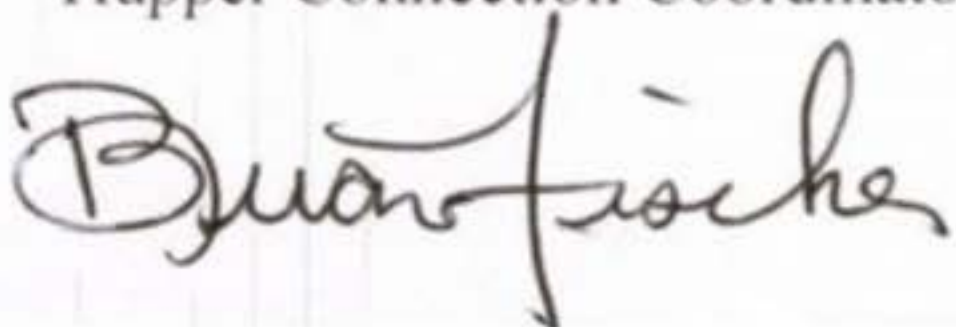

This person is a dream representative of our youth among our trapping friends and serves as a good role model. She is a role model to family siblings, cousins and throughout her community. A trapper herself she can identify with the sport. She is proud, confident and has the willingness to help educate.

Amber's trapping experience had started at an early age. She was riding along with dad on the 4-wheeler pulling gophers from traps. She graduated to the car seat to check beaver, raccoon and coyote sets. Amber caught her first raccoon when she was 3 years old and since then every time she caught a new species, it gets tanned and hung on her wall. Amber's trapping experience has come along way as she presently a lifetime member of the MTA.

Amber's fresh, young leadership skills are plentiful in our trapping world, community and family settings. One sign of young leadership skills is her volunteering to help with our Beginner Trappers Connection Program by assisting in demos. Her willingness to jump in front of youth, connects with youth. Years back she helped organized MTA's souvenirs inventory. She's volunteered for ditch clean up on behalf of the MTA and Dairy Club. She is a fixture at our conventions attending every chance she has, over the years she runs the stop watch at our trapping contest. She has held club officer position, and lastly, I will never forget in time of need, she without question stepped forward to help with a BTC demo on the spur of the moment. Amber is very giving and willing to share her time.

Amber McElmury is a responsible young leader for today's time and will be for tomorrow's future!

I would like to nominate Amber McElmury for 2022 Youth Trapper of the year.
Respectfully submitted, Brian Fischer, MTA President and Land, Water and Beginner Trapper Connection Coordinator.
